The main reasons people interact with the Commission online

EU law, rules, treaties, judgments

Research and innovation

Funding, grants, subsidies

Education and training in EU

EU strategy, political priorities

Environmental protection

Focus on the task

Writing for the Web is not the same as writing for print. One of the key differences is that, when people use the Web, they are relentlessly task-focused. They want to do something, and they want to do it as quickly and as painlessly as possible.

Gerry McGovern: Killer Web Content

ec.europa.eu/libraries

The screenshot displays the homepage of the European Commission's Library and E-Resources Centre. The background is a blurred image of a library with bookshelves and people. At the top, there is a navigation bar with links for 'Legal notice', 'Cookies', 'Contact', and 'Search', along with a language selector set to 'English (en)'. Below this is a header section featuring the European Commission logo and the title 'LIBRARY AND E-RESOURCES CENTRE'. A blue banner below the header contains the breadcrumb 'European Commission > Library and e-Resources Centre'. A dark navigation menu lists 'Home', 'Using the library', 'Library resources', 'Open Access resources', 'Calls for tenders', and 'Contact'. The main content area features the text 'Find-eR' and 'Explore a wealth of resources on EU policies, law and more'. A search bar at the bottom of this section contains the text 'climate change migration' and a magnifying glass icon. Below the search bar, a section titled 'Using the library' is highlighted with an orange border. This section contains four icons and their corresponding labels: 'European Commission staff' (icon of a person with a document), 'Staff working at another EU institution' (icon of a person with a laptop), 'External readers' (icon of a person with a globe), and 'Interlibrary loans' (icon of a building with a bookshelf).

Use Find-eR to explore the print and electronic collections of the European Commission libraries.

Most library resources are now available online: full-text articles, ebooks, and databases. Find-eR stands short for Find electronic Resources.

Find-eR expands the coverage of the previous database ECLAS.

What's new in Find-eR compared to ECLAS? Find-eR gives you access also to electronic articles and other e-publications. Check out the list of databases to see what is available to search in Find-eR!

If you don't have access to the full text of a publication, talk to your librarian.

EUROPEAN COMMISSION AUTHENTICATION SERVICE (ECAS)

IntraComm > Authentication Service > Where Are You From?

Authenticates your identity on European Commission websites

What is ECAS?

ECAS is the European Commission Authentication Service. It allows users to access a wide range of Commission information systems, using a single username and password. Once you log in, ECAS will remember you as long as you keep your browser open. During that time, you won't have to identify yourself again, no matter how many online services of the Commission you access.

Where are you from?

Welcome to the European Commission Authentication Service (ECAS).

Choose the institution or body for which you want to log in. Choose "External" if you don't work for a European institution or body. Choose "W+7" if you have a special external account composed of w and 7 digits.

If you aren't sure, select the "I don't know?" option for help.
